

BILL

PASSED THE HOUSE ALMOST UNANIMOUSLY.

HEPBURN BILL FAVORS THE NICARAGUA ROUTE.

TWO VOTES AGAINST THE BILL.

Some of the Provisions of the Measure—To Investigate Panama—Affairs of Congress.

Washington, Jan. 10.—By practically an unanimous vote the house of representatives passed the Hepburn canal bill, only two members out of 310 voting against it. Messrs. Fletcher (Rep., Minn.) and Lassiter (Dem., Va.), were the two voting in the negative. The opposition to committing the government to the Nicaragua route attempted to secure amendments to lodge with the president the discretionary power to purchase and complete the Panama canal if it could be purchased for $40,000,000. The test came on the first vote, when the advocates of an alternative route polled 102 against 170 votes. At each succeeding vote their strength dwindled until Mr. Cannon of Illinois, under whose leadership the fight was made, was unable to get the ayes and noes on a motion to recommitt. All other amendments failed and the bill passed exactly as it came from the committee. None of the votes except that on the final passage of the bill was a record vote. The debate which preceded the taking of the final vote was made memorable by a clash between Mr. Hepburn, the author of the bill, and Mr. Cannon, chairman of the appropriations committee.

The bill as passed authorizes the president to secure from the states of Costa Rica and Nicaragua, in behalf of the United States, control of such a portion of the territory belonging to said states as may be desirable and necessary to which to excavate, construct and prospect a canal suitable to the wants of modern navigation and commerce, and appropriate such a sum as may be necessary to secure control of said territory.

Section 2 authorizes the president, after securing control of the needed territory, to direct secretary of war to construct such canal from the Caribbean sea at a point near Greytown, in Nicaragua, by way of Lake Nicaragua, to a point on the Pacific ocean near Brito, and also to construct proper harbors at the termini of said canal and to make necessary provisions for defense of canal and harbors. Sections 3 and 4 authorize the president to make such surveys as may be necessary and to employ such persons in constructing the canal as may to him seem wise, and directs that in the construction of the canal, the river San Juan and Lake Nicaragua shall be used as far as they are available. Section 5 authorizes the president to guarantee to the states of Costa Rica and Nicaragua the use of the canal and harbors, upon such terms to be agreed upon, for all vessels owned by said states, and by citizens thereof.

The last section makes a present appropriation of $10,000,000 to carry on this work, and authorizes the secretary of war to enter into proper contracts for material and work as may be deemed necessary therefor, such work and material to be paid for as appropriations may be made from time to time. The section fixes the aggregate cost at $180,000,000, to be drawn from the treasury on warrants of the president.

To Investigate Panama.
Washington, Jan. 10.—The committee on inter-oceanic canals authorized Senator Morgan, as chairman of that committee, to appoint two subcommittees of five members each to make inquiry concerning alleged combinations between the railroads to control railroad charges on the isthmus of Panama. Senator Morgan expressed the opinion that it would be necessary for a subcommittee to visit New York, and as he felt that expedition was necessary, he asked for a committee for that purpose as well as for one to sit in this city. The subcommittees have not yet been named.

New York, Jan. 10.—An interesting legal battle is soon to begin between E. C. Benedict, the millionaire banker, and the widow of his son, Frederick Benedict, who was killed while automobiling near West Point last October. Mrs. Benedict was formerly Miss Virginia Couderc, the daughter of Frederick Couderc, the lawyer. Her relations with her father-in-law were always strained. Under her husband's will, Mrs. Benedict is chief beneficiary. ## FORTUNE

Cleveland, O., Jan. 10.—To be bequeathed a large sum of money by a supposed poor relation is the unusual experience that has befallen a number of Cleveland persons who are heirs to the estate of Mary Gordon Vanstone, who died in Devonshire, England, six months ago. Forty years ago there lived in Devonshire three sisters named Gordon and a brother Thomas. Two of the sisters came to America and located in Cleveland. They were Mrs. Hanna Davis and Mrs. Ann Ford. The third sister remained in England and married a man named Vanstone.

Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Ford are dead, and to their children falls the Vanstone fortune. They are Mrs. George E. Couch, 24 Glen Park place; George Davis, Brookfield street; W. H. Ford, 485 Franklin avenue; Mrs. D. N. Sherwood, 794 Scranton avenue; Mrs. C. T. Kimmich, 319 Streater avenue; Mrs. Harriett Gee and Charles Ford, Linn-dale, Ohio, and Mrs. Dr. Adams, Rochester, Minn. Thomas Gordon is living in Louisville, Ky. He has not been heard from in many years.

Trouble Expected.

SEWED UP

His Mouth With Needle and Thread. So He Wouldn't Have to Eat Objectionable Food.

Noblesville, Ind., Jan. 10.—Jeremiah Peabody, an aged inmate of the Tip-ton County Infirmary, objected to food being prepared for him, and in order to fix things so that he would not have to eat it he procured a needle and thread, and succeeded in sewing his lips completely shut.

He took 16 stitches in them, using an ordinary needle and coarse, white thread. When his condition was discovered a physician was called, and the stitches were taken out. Peabody offered no resistance, and seemed rather glad to be able to talk again. He is now subsisting on a light diet, and unless blood poisoning sets in will suffer no permanent injury from his exploit.

"SCHEMING"

Caused Faculty of Ohio Wesleyan University to Send a Fair Student Home.

Delaware, O., Jan. 10.—The faculty of Ohio Wesleyan University have checked one more name off their list and this time a prominently known young lady from Portsmouth, Ohio, is the victim.

The young lady was charged with "scheming" as the college boys express it. She went buggy riding with a young man of this city and should not have done so.

Whether the charge is true or not is not known, but at any rate the young lady was expelled.

The young lady was a Freshman and during her stay in college had made many friends and was one of the prettiest girls Monnett hall had for many years. When she left Wednesday afternoon for her home, the Big Four depot was crowded with sympathizing friends there being over 200 students in the crowd. Fond farewells were given and as the train pulled out with its fair passenger many an eye was dimmed with thoughts of times that had long since passed and those that were over forever to their unfortunate classmate.

Trouble Adjusted.

New York, Jan. 10.—The industrial department of the National Civic Education which was formed last December with Senator Hanna as chairman, has finished its first work. It resulted in averting a strike of 40,000 clothing cutters. They demanded an eight-hour working day and the employers refused to grant it. The dispute was referred to the Civic Federation committee and an agreement was made yesterday. The exact terms are not made public but there was a compromise. The agreement will hold for one year.

TRUSTEES

Of the Proposed Carnegie Institute are Named—Aims of the Founder, Mr. Carnegie.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Official announcement was made of the board of trustees of the Carnegie institution, which has been incorporated here under the $10,000,000 gift of Andrew Carnegie. The only indication as to the form of the gift is that it will be in "5 per cent bonds." A board of trustees was elected by the incorporators to carry out the purposes of the institution. Among these are Grover Cleveland, Lyman J. Gage, John Hay, Abram S. Hewitt, Elihu Root, Seth Low and Carroll D. Wright. It is proposed to found in the city of Washington an institution which, with the cooperation of institutions now or hereafter established, here or elsewhere, shall, in the broadest and most liberal manner encourage investigation, research and discovery; provide such buildings, laboratories, books and apparatus as may be needed, and afford instruction of an advanced character to students whenever and wherever found, inside or outside of schools, properly qualified to profit thereby.

NO STOMACH

And Now the Surgeons Propose to Cut Out Kruger's Liver and Gall Ducts.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—Minus his stomach as the result of one surgical operation, Carl Kruger, who, after living for nine months, is slowly dying at his home, 679 Winneamac avenue, has been given the choice of undergoing another operation or calmly awaiting the coming of death. For the second time within a year he chose to risk his life on the operating table.

Dr. R. Brindley Eads, Dean of the Illinois College Hospital, will remove the patient's gall ducts and perhaps relieve him of a portion of his liver. This desperate undertaking will take place next week at the college.

As he is one of only three persons in the history of surgery who are known to have lived after the stomach has been removed, Kruger's case has been watched by medical men all over the country.

LEGISLATIVE INQUIRY.

Albany, Jan. 10.—The New York State Legislature has taken up the New York tunnel horror and will make a rigid inquiry.

VICTIM

OF DRUG IS EX-GOVERNOR OF SOUTH CAROLINA

SENT TO JAIL FOR USING A BOGUS CHECK.

PATHTIC APPEAL TO JUDGE.

Disheartened by Desertrion by His Party, He Sought Solace in Opium and Was Lost.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 10.—Franklin J. Moses, ex-Governor of South Carolina, was before Judge Brown in the Criminal Court yesterday charged with giving a check for $50 in payment for an overcoat, said check having been drawn on a South Carolina bank in which it was learned that the ex-Governor had no funds. It was further learned that after Moses got the coat he pawned it.

The ex-Governor said that when he gave the check he honestly believed that there was money in the bank. After he got the coat he learned there was no money there, and at once telephoned the tailor and informed him that he expected a party from the South in a few days with money for him with which he expected to pay his obligations.

The tailor seemed to take it all right and, when the ex-Governor offered to return the coat until the money arrived, the tailor told him to keep it.

"As Mr. Hawkes," said he, "didn't want it returned, and as I would not wear it until I had paid for it, I decided to place the coat in a safe place."

So the ex-Governor payed the coat. That was the end of the affair as told by the white-haired gentleman in the dock. He further argued that criminal intent was necessary in the commission of a crime, and his connection with the coat transaction failed to show that.

He then asked the Judge for permission to say a few words before sentence, if in His Honor's opinion the crime with which he had been charged had been sufficiently proved, against him. Judge Brown nodded for him to proceed.

Ex-Governor Moses thereupon gave vent to a burst of oratory which consumed from half to three-quarters of an hour. He spoke slowly, feelingly and with what appeared to be a good deal of sincerity.

"For the past two years," he began, "I have had to live through a condition of affairs more trying and more humiliating than which it would be hard to find. In a word, I have had to bear and suffer the ignominy of being pointed out as I walked the street as a criminal of criminals. Can a more painful punishment than that be inflicted upon a man of gentle birth?"

"In 1872, when I occupied the position of Chief Magistrate of one of the proudest states in the Union, I was driven by social ostracism, despite my position and the councils of men high in public life, to seek relief in that alone which seemed to be able to give rest to a mind ill at rest, namely, to the use of morphine. From morphine I next took to using opium. In fact, in 1876, the time when the Republican party surrendered the state to the opposition, I had become so addicted to its influence that I could not live without it."

Then he told of his sojourn in New York, where so low did he sink that he became an inmate of one of the lowest and vilest opium dens in that large city.

Then it was that he committed his first crime. He was arrested for it and later on expiated his offense by a term in prison.

"The use of opium," said he, running his fingers through his silver white hair, "has bit me off and pained at the age of 38."

He wound up with a plea for a chance to settle with the tailor. He did not want to go to jail again, because he did not want to leave as a legacy to his children the memory of their father having been beyond the reach of mercy. He begged that

LAWSUIT

Grows Out of the Y. Bridge Weddings at Zanesville—Both the Couples Want the Presents.

Zanesville, O., Jan. 10.—Rivalry for prizes offered by local merchants to newly married couples has resulted in a law suit. William Wells, a furniture dealer, several weeks ago announced that he would give a one hundred dollar bed-room suit to the first couple married on the new Y bridge. In later announcements he stated that he would select the couple. Other merchants entered the lists, with the result that a complete house-furnishing outfit was offered to the couple, and the presents have been displayed in a Main street store window for several days.

Roy Steele and Ida Gatewood were quietly married Tuesday afternoon on the bridge, and Wednesday evening the Wells couple, Albert Bridwell and Carrie Weaver, were married on the bridge, but without the celebration that had been announced. At the time the wedding was solemnized Mr. Steele, the first groom, replevined the presents, and Mr. Wells furnished a redelivery bond, and the result is that the Court will have to decide to whom the presents belong.

CHASE

in Automobiles and the Abduction of a Groom Failed Through the Latter's Acuteness.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 10.—An automobile chase and the abduction of the bridegroom were planned as a climax to the wedding of Joseph Alexander Gilchrist and Miss Fay Irvine McCrea prominent young society folks who were married Wednesday night at the residence of the bride's parents. The bridegroom is a son of Captain J. C. Gilchrist, and is associated with his father in the vessel business. Gilchrist has been the leading spirit in making things uncomfortable for wedding couples, and his victims decided to abduct him while he was on his way to a train and keep him in hiding for several days. Gilchrist learned of the plan and had a swift automobile at the bride's door. The would-be abductors had three autos. But Gilchrist and his bride hid in the McCrea house and the men who planned the capture supposed they had been outgeneraled and the bride and groom had left, so they gave up their scheme. Last night Nichols and his son went gunning for Clark. They found him in the hotel. Justice Nichols, after three attempts to fire his revolver, clubbed Clark over the head. Then George Nichols at his father's command, drew a pistol and shot Clark in the head.

The Nichols will be arraigned in court this afternoon and held for trial. The town is stirred up over the affair. Nichols charges against his wife, it is generally believed, are entirely imaginative. As the result of the affair, the Fairfield County Republican has suspended publication.

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

David B. Hill having received an invitation to attend the St. Jackson Day banquet of a young men's Democratic club in Philadelphia, sent a letter in reply that contains a grand Democratic platform in a few words. Senator Hill in his letter said:

"Your letter has just reached me. I give you this sentiment: A strict construction of the Federal Constitution. No entangling alliances with foreign nations. Insistence upon the reserved rights of the states. Public taxation for public purposes only. Opposition to monopolies and dangerous combinations of capital. The preservation of the personal liberty of the citizen. No centralization. Home rule for states and municipalities. These are Democratic principles which survive all defeats and must ultimately triumph."

Stockholders of the United States Steel Corporation are rejoicing because—as shown by an official statement—the company earned enough in nine months of the past year to pay a year's interest on outstanding bonds, together with dividends at regular rates on the preferred and common stocks. The surplus for nine months is nearly $20,000,000—no inconsiderable item, even for a concern with $1,100,000,000 capital. When it is considered that the entire property of the corporation could be duplicated for the amount of the outstanding bonds, the extraordinary and immediate financial success of this colossal undertaking appears altogether amazing. An attempt at monopoly which yields such rich returns in a field of enterprise open to all the world must naturally invite competition; and to choke this off, rather than to maintain the high-water mark of prosperity era dividends, will doubtless be the chief concern of Steel Trust magnates for the future.

Representative Grosvenor of Ohio, has introduced a bill providing that all manufacturers of shoddy woolen goods, tailors and clothiers, shall tag their goods in plain letters and figures showing the percentages of wool and shoddy. This would be all right if there were any intention to put the bill through. But when it is known that Grosvenor introduces the bill merely for buncombe, the people feel a sort of disgust.—Mansfield Shield.

Right you are. A few years ago Richards, a Democratic representative from this district, introduced a similar bill, but a Republican Congress consigned it to the waste basket quicker than you could say seat. That was the last heard of it.—Holmes County Farmer.

The Columbus Citizen, always bright, aggressive and up to date, began the new year by installing a new three deck Goss perfecting press. The Citizen is growing and prospering daily increasing its already wide circle of friends.

The publisher of the Ladies' Home Journal and the Saturday Evening Post affirms that the success of these periodicals "was built up by advertising at a cost of from $200,000 to $300,000 a year." Of all the theories of business success, he asserts that "there is one thing that is absolutely sure, and that is: Good advertising; if persisted in, surely pays."

NEW CONSTITUTION

OF M. E. CHURCH WAS ADOPTED
BY DECISION OF MAJORITY.

All Have Voted, and With New Constitution a Number of Important Changes are Made.

The General Conference of the M. E. church in its session two years ago in Chicago, authorized the annual conference to vote on the new constitution. All the conferences have voted and the result is as follows: 8,254 ayes to 2,512 nays. The spring conferences, which were opposed to the new constitution are as follows:

Baltimore, 194 to 70; East German, 45 to 4; Newark, 92 to 65; New York, East, 149 to 73; North German, 52 to 2; South German, 74 to 2. The fall conferences opposed were as follows: Central German, 194 to 3; Chicago German, 73 to 3; Northwest German, 46 to 2; Southern German, 28 to 3; St. Louis German, 8 to 2; and West German, 73 to 1. The adoption of the new constitution by a small but decisive majority calls attention to some of the important changes carried by it. The article providing for the election of lay delegates used to read "laymen" and could have been construed to include women but never was. The new constitution substitutes "lay members" for "laymen". The new constitution makes several changes in the election of lay delegates. Heretofore they have been selected by the quarterly conferences. Under the constitution they are to be elected by the lay members of the charge over 21 years of age.

The lay electoral conference is authorized to vote upon all constitutional questions and the concurrence of two-thirds of all members of the several annual conferences is required to adopt amendments to the constitution. Located ministers are practically prohibited from serving as a lay delegate within five years after their location. One of the most important features is the change in the required majority of votes of ministers as well as the added vote of the members of the lay electoral conferences. Heretofore all amendments to secure adoption required a three-fourths vote of all the ministers of the several annual conferences. The smaller proportion of the ministerial vote and the right to vote of the laity are not only a protection against hasty legislation but considered eminently fair. The section providing that lay delegates must reside within the bounds of the lay conference by which elected will prevent the representation of conference by lay men who are not resident therein.

The constitution also provides that the bishops shall be elected by ballot from among the traveling elders. As a prominent churchman says for the first time in its history the M. E. church has a constitution in name and form as well as in fact.

The object of these preparations is that Nicaragua, Honduras and Salvador intend to attack Guatemala and Costa Rica and compel them to join the proposed Central American Union.

HIS ENGLISH FRIEND.

A Visit That Wrecked the Nerves of an American Host.

"I've been having the time of my life," I told you," said the suburbanite gloomily to his city friend at lunch. "What's the matter? Pipes burst? Furnace won't work? Dog killing the neighbors' chickens?" asked the friend, sympathetically running through the list of the suburbanite's usual grievances.

"No, worse than that," sadly answered the first speaker. "I've been having an English friend visit me. It's worse than I've been before. The water, so one or two of his ways were a little strange. The worst of his doings was what has broken me up so. He went to bed last night before the rest of us and when I came along the corridor an hour or so later there were his shoes standing outside his door and frightfully muddy too."

"I looked at them in astonishment. Then I remembered the English custom of having the boy come up for the boots. We keep only two servants, you know, both women, and of course in the country you have to rub them the right way or they'll leave. I knew perfectly well that if I told either of those free and independent Irish women to clean the Englishman's shoes, they'd be left servantless, and that would have been the death of my wife."

"I lifted the shoes gingerly by two fingers and carried them to my room. When I thought the servants must be asleep, I crept down stairs and got to work with a brush. At every sound I would nearly jump out of my own boots and drop his. I fancied every moment that the girls would see my candle and give the alarm of burglars or that my friend would be taken ill and get up and find me brushing his shoes. Oh, I had a pretty time of it! He stayed a week, that Englishman, and what with loss of sleep and overstrained nerves I'm a wreck."

"Well, why on earth didn't you have the moral courage?"

"Moral courage! I'd like to see the man who'd have the moral courage to tell an English gentleman with a monocle that the ways of even well bred people in this country differ from those he's been accustomed to! My friend, you do not know the breed!" And he drowned his sorrows and braced his nerves with a second cup of unsurpassed coffee.—New York Tribune.

The Best Telephoned City.

What is the best telephoned city in the world? San Francisco seems to be the answer. In that city, with a population of 342,782, there are 11,221 telephones, or sixty-two per thousand. In Europe, Copenhagen is probably the best telephoned city, with 10,371 telephones to its 312,559 of population, equal to forty-nine per thousand. In Copenhagen, too, the best conditions for the public exist, although the rates are relatively as high as those in American cities. London compares very unfavorably with these figures. At the beginning of this year there were 41,111 telephones to a population of more than 5,500,000, or a proportion of seven to every thousand people. New York, with a population of 2,350,000, had 54,647 instruments, or twenty-six to a thousand.

Hasbands' Motto a Bible Verse.

The Husband's Protection society of London has as its motto the naive verse found in what is known as the Wife Beater's Bible, published in 1549, copies of which may be found in many museums and libraries. This verse is as follows:

"He dwelleth with his wife according to his knowledge and taketh her as a necessary healer and not as a bond servant or a bond slave. And if she be not obedient and helpful to him he endueth her to beate the fear of God into her heade that thereby she may be compelled to learne her dute and to do it."—London News.

When the Rod Was Not Spared.

The change of thought and conditions of mankind is no better illustrated than by the history of the rod. In an article on the morals of the child by Dr. Grace Peckham Murray there is mention made of a Suabian schoolmaster who during his fifty-one years of superintendence of a large school had given 911,500 canings, 121,000 floggings, 200,000 castings, 135,000 ties with the ruler, 10,200 boxes on the ear and 22,700 tasks by the heart.—Delineator.

No Joking Matter.

"Jokesmith, it appears, is married and has gone to housekeeping." "Not at all. What made you think so?" "He's been writing so many jokes about servant girls lately he must have had some experience with them." "Nonsense! If he'd had such experience, he wouldn't joke about it."

Warded Off.

Mr. Phoxy—Did you send the Borems a card for our marriage? Mrs. Phoxy—Yes. How could I get out of it?

And Small Hope.

First Physician—I understand the measles have broken out in your neighborhood? Second Physician—Yes, but the families are so scattered I'm afraid they won't catch.—Boston Post.

Teeth.

Father—How is it you never have any money? Son—It's not my fault. It's all due to other people.—Philadelphia Press.

M'CREADY SELECTED.

Easy Winner in the Kentucky Democratic Caucus.

TO BE NEXT UNITED STATES SENATOR

Received Two-Thirds of the Vote and Will Be Formally Elected Next Week Over Senator Deboe—Prominent For Years in the History of the Blue Grass State.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 10.—Standing in the rostrum of the old hall of representatives of the Kentucky capitol, where nearly 30 years ago he began his public career, Hon. James B. McCreary of Madison county accepted the nomination of the Democratic party to succeed William J. Deboe in the senate of the United States. He received the nomination by a vote of 62 to 37 over Circuit Judge James E. Cantrell of Scott county, nearly two-thirds of Democratic members. He will be elected by the general assembly, in joint session, on Tuesday of next week, over Senator Deboe, who was endorsed by his party for reelection. The Democratic caucus was harmonious throughout, the only surprise being that sprung several hours before it convened by the withdrawal of Congressman Charles K. Wheeler and David K. Smith, who have been in the contest for the past year. They withdrew only when it became apparent that McCreary would be nominated, and Judge Cantrell remained in the race only to receive a complimentary vote.

For 10 years James McCreary has been prominent in Kentucky's history. He first came into notice in 1862, when he assisted in raising the Eleventh cavalry regiment for the Kentucky service, Confederate army. In this regiment he was subsequently made lieutenant colonel, a rank he held at the close of the war. He served with distinction in the army of the Tennessee under Generals Morgan and Bragg, and under Breckenridge in Virginia, and surrendered with his regiment at Appomattox. He entered politics in 1866, being chosen to represent Madison county in the Kentucky legislature. In 1873 he was elected governor on the Democratic ticket. After retiring from the executive office he was elected to the Forty-ninth congress, and re-elected to the Fiftieth, Fifty-first, Fifty-second, Fifty-third and Fifty-fourth sessions. Governor McCreary was appointed by the president of the United States, in 1892, one of the five commissioners to represent the United States in the international monetary conference. In that conference he distinguished himself as an advocate of bimetalism.

Miners Strike.

Dubois, Pa., Jan. 10.—Eight hundred employees at Affian and 600 men employed at the Florence mine of the Rochester and Pittsburgh Coal and Iron company are on strike. The grievance of the men is that they are required to push cars left on the main track at the headings to and from the rooms in which they work. They claim this should be done by mules.

Struck a Work Train.

Pittsburg, Jan. 10.—The Wellsville and Belaire express on the Cleveland and Pittsburgh railroad collided with a Fort Wayne work train in Allegheny and four trainmen were hurt, but none of them seriously. The express carried 50 passengers, none of whom suffered worse than a thorough shaking up and a bad fright.

Anti-British Riots.

Vienna, Jan. 10.—A riotous anti-British demonstration was provoked at the town of Sal, in Hungary, on the occasion of the presentation of Wilson Barrett's play, "The Sign of the Cross." The police were forced to stop the play and clear the building. The papers heartily approve of the demonstration.

Young Newspaper Man.

McKinley Day.

Holena, Mont., Jan. 10.—Acting on suggestion of Governor Nash of Ohio, Governor Toole has issued an address in which he asks the school children of the state and the people generally to observe Jan. 29, the anniversary of the birthday of the late President McKinley, as a holiday.

Another Gusher.

Galveston, Jan. 10.—News reached here that a "finch gusher" has been brought in in the Keyser Mound field, which is three miles from Columbia in Brabner county, and about 50 miles from Galveston. The well is said to be spouting oil 60 feet high.

Crescent Horse.

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

David B. Hill having received an invitation to attend the St. Jackson Day banquet of a young men's Democratic club in Philadelphia, sent a letter in reply that contains a grand Democratic platform in a few words. Senator Hill in his letter said:

"Your letter has just reached me. I give you this sentiment: A strict construction of the Federal Constitution. No entangling alliances with foreign nations. Insistence upon the reserved rights of the states. Public taxation for public purposes only. Opposition to monopolies and dangerous combinations of capital. The preservation of the personal liberty of the citizen. No centralization. Home rule for states and municipalities. These are Democratic principles which survive all defeats and must ultimately triumph."

Stockholders of the United States Steel Corporation are rejoicing because—as shown by an official statement—the company earned enough in nine months of the past year to pay a year's interest on outstanding bonds, together with dividends at regular rates on the preferred and common stocks. The surplus for nine months is nearly $20,000,000—no inconsiderable item, even for a concern with $1,100,000,000 capital. When it is considered that the entire property of the corporation could be duplicated for the amount of the outstanding bonds, the extraordinary and immediate financial success of this colossal undertaking appears altogether amazing. An attempt at monopoly which yields, such rich returns in a field of enterprise open to all the world must naturally invite competition; and to choke this off, rather than to maintain the high-water mark of prosperity era dividends, will doubtless be the chief concern of Steel Trust magnates for the future.

Representative Grosvenor of Ohio, has introduced a bill providing that all manufacturers of shoddy woolen goods, tailors and clothiers, shall tag their goods in plain letters and figures showing the percentages of wool and shoddy. This would be all right if there were any intention to put the bill through. But when it is known that Grosvenor introduces the bill merely for unbecoming, the people feel a sort of disgust—Mansfield Shield.

Right you are. A few years ago Richards, a Democratic representative from this district, introduced a similar bill, but a Republican Congress consigned it to the waste basket quicker than you could say scat. That was the last heard of it—Holmes County Farmer.

NEW CONSTITUTION

OF M. E. CHURCH WAS ADOPTED BY DECISION OF MAJORITY.

All Have Voted, and With New Constitution a Number of Important Changes are Made.

The General Conference of the M. E. church in its session two years ago in Chicago, authorized the annual conference to vote on the new constitution. All the conferences have voted and the result is as follows: 8,254 ayes to 2,512 nays. The spring conferences, which were opposed to the new constitution are as follows:

Baltimore, 104 to 70; East German, 45 to 4; Newark, 92 to 65; New York, East, 140 to 73; North German, 52 to 2; South German, 74 to 2. The fall conferences opposed were as follows: Central German, 104 to 3; Chicago German, 73 to 3; Northwest German, 46 to 2; Southern German, 28 to 3; St. Louis German, 8 to 2; and West German, 73 to 1. The adoption of the new constitution by a small but decisive majority calls attention to some of the important changes carried by it. The article providing for the election of lay delegates used to read "laymen" and could have been construed to include women but never was. The new constitution substitutes "lay members" for "laymen". The new constitution makes several changes in the election of lay delegates. Heretofore they have been selected by the quarterly conferences. Under the constitution they are to be elected by the lay members of the charge over 21 years of age.

The lay electoral conference is authorized to vote upon all constitutional questions and the concurrence of two-thirds of all members of the several annual conferences is required to adopt amendments to the constitution. Located ministers are practically prohibited from serving as a lay delegate within five years after their location. One of the most important features is the change in the required majority of votes of ministers as well as the added vote of the members of the lay electoral conferences. Heretofore all amendments to secure adoption required a three-fourths vote of all the ministers of the several annual conferences. The smaller proportion of the ministerial vote and the right to vote of the laity are not only a protection against hasty legislation but considered eminently fair. The section providing that lay delegates must reside within the bounds of the lay conference by which elected will prevent the representation of conference by lay men who are not resident therein.

The constitution also provides that the bishops shall be elected by ballot from among the traveling elders. As a prominent churchman says for the first time in its history the M. E. church has a constitution in name and form as well as in fact.

Presidential Appointments.
Washington, Jan. 10.—The president sent the following nominations to the senate: Naval officer of customs at Boston and Charleston, James O. Lyford of New Hampshire; collector of customs, Pearl River, Miss., William F. Swan, Miss.; United States attorney, Southern district of Mississippi, Robert C. Lee, Miss.; secretary of Oklahoma territory, William Grimes, O. T.; United States marshal, Southern district of Mississippi, Edgar S. Wilson, Miss.; Indian agent, Sac and Fox agency, Oklahoma, Ross Giffin, Missouri; register of land office, Frederick W. Collins, Jackson, Miss.; also a number of minor civil and military appointments.

Nicaragua Active.
Hamburg, Jan. 10.—Nicaragua is making extensive war preparations. She has purchased the German warship Armonius, is negotiating for the purchase of two other warships and has bought cannon, rifles and ammunition amounting to the value of 1,500,000 marks, through the Nicaraguan minister at Berlin, Senor Rocha. The object of these preparations is that Nicaragua, Honduras and Salvador intend to attack Guatemala and Costa Rica and compel them to join the proposed Central American Union.

Sultan Will Resist.
Cairo, Jan. 10.—The Sultan of Turkey has vainly sought to enlist French aid to prevent the Italian occupation of Tripoli. The sultan then decided to fortify the capital. It is said, and Tripoli will be reinforced with a garrison which will be equipped with the latest and most modern weapons.

Hungary hopes to be able to raise cotton, although the warm season only five months long and the plant requires seven months to ripen. The difficulty is to be overcome by special preparation of the seed and by a certain ingredients to the soil.

HIS ENGLISH FRIEND.

A Visit That Wrecked the Nerves of an American Host.

"I've been having the time of my life," I tell you," said the suburbanite gloomily to his city friend at lunch.

"What's the matter?" Pipes burst? "Furrows won't work? Dog barking the neighbors' chickens?" asked the friend, sympathetically running through the list of the suburbanite's usual grievances.

"No, worse than that," sadly answered the first speaker. "I've been having an English friend visit me. It's worse than I've been across the water. One or two of his ways were a little strange. The way of his doing was with his hands up so. He went to bed the first night before the rest of us and when I came along the curtain an inch or so later there were his shoes standing outside his door and faithfully ready to go."

"I looked at them in astonishment. Then I remembered the English custom of having the boy come up for the boots. We keep only two servants, you know, both women, and of course in the country you have to rub them the right way or they'll leave. I knew perfectly well that if I told either of those two and independent Irish women to clean the Englishman's shoes, they'd be left servants, and that would have been the death of my wife."

"I lifted the shoes gingerly by two fingers and carried them to my room. When I thought the servants must be asleep, I crept down stairs and got to work with a brush. At every sound I would nearly jump out of my own boots and drop his. I landed every morning that the girls would see my candle and give the alarm of burglars or that my friend would be taken ill and get up and find me brushing his shoes. Oh, I had a pretty time of it! He stayed a week, that Englishman, and what with loss of sleep and overstrained nerves I'm a wreck."

"Well, why on earth didn't you have the moral courage to?"

"Moral courage? I'd like to see the man who'd have the moral courage to tell an English gentleman with a monocle that the ways of even well bred people in this country differ from those he's been accustomed to! My friend, you do not know the breed!" And he drew his sorrows and braced his nerves with a second cup of unimpaired coffee—New York Tribune.

The Best Telephoned City.

What is the best telephoned city in the world? San Francisco seems to be the answer. In that city, with a population of 342,752, there are 21,324 telephones, or sixty-two per thousand. In Europe, Copenhagen is probably the best telephoned city, with 13,311 telephones to its 312,850 of population, equal to forty-nine per thousand. In Copenhagen, too, the best conditions for the public exist, although the rates are relatively as high as those in American cities. London compares very unfavorably with these figures. At the beginning of this year there were 41,111 telephones to a population of more than 5,000,000, or a proportion of seven to every thousand people. New York, with a population of 2,350,000, had 54,647 instruments, or twenty-six to a thousand.

Inslands' Motto a Bible Verse.

The Inslands' Protection society of London has as its motto the naive verse found in what is known as the Wife Beater's Bible, published in 1549, copies of which may be found in many museums and libraries. This verse is as follows:

"He dwelleth with his wife according to his knowledge and taketh her as a necessary servant and not as a bonde servant or a bonde slave. And if she be not obedient and helpful to him he endeavoreth to bente the fear of God into her heade that thereby she may be compelled to learne her dutie and to do it."—London News.

When the Rod Was Not Spared.

The change of thought and conditions of mankind is no better illustrated than by the history of the rod. In an article on the morals of the child by Dr. Grace Peckham Murray there is mention made of a Quabian schoolmaster who during his fifty-one years of superintendence of a large school had given 911,500 canines, 121,000 floggings, 200,000 paddles, 139,000 tips with the ruler, 10,200 boxes on the ear and 22,700 tasks by the heart—Delineator.

No Joking Matter.

"Joaksmith, it appears, is married and has gone to housekeeping."

"Not at all. What made you think so?"

"He's been writing so many jokes about servant girls lately he must have had some experience with them."

"Nonsense! If he'd had such experience, he wouldn't joke about it."

Warded Off.

Mrs. Phoxy—Yes. How could I get out of it?

Mr. Phoxy—I'll tell Borens that Jennie is coming. Borens owes him money.

M'CREARY SELECTED.

Easy Winner in the Kentucky Democratic Caucus.

TO BE NEXT UNITED STATES SENATOR

Received Two-Thirds of the Vote and Will Be Formally Elected Next Week Over Senator Deboe—Pronounced For Years in the History of the Blue Grass State.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 10.—Standing in the rostrum of the old hall of representatives of the Kentucky capitol, where nearly 30 years ago he began his public career, Hon. James B. McCreary of Madison county accepted the nomination of the Democratic party to succeed William J. Deboe in the senate of the United States. He received the nomination by a vote of 62 to 37 over Circuit Judge James E. Cantrill of Scott county, nearly two-thirds of Democratic members. He will be elected by the general assembly, in joint session, on Tuesday of next week, over Senator Deboe, who was endorsed by his party for reelection. The Democratic caucus was harmonious throughout, the only surprise being that sprung several hours before it convened by the withdrawal of Congressman Charles K. Wheeler and David K. Smith, who have been in the contest for the past year. They withdrew only when it became apparent that McCreary would be nominated, and Judge Cantrill remained in the race only to receive a complimentary vote.

For 40 years James McCreary has been prominent in Kentucky's history. He first came into notice in 1862, when he assisted in raising the Eleventh cavalry regiment for the Kentucky service, Confederate army. In this regiment he was subsequently made lieutenant colonel, a rank he held at the close of the war. He served with distinction in the army of the Tennessee under Generals Morgan and Bragg, and under Breckenridge in Virginia, and surrendered with his regiment at Appomattox. He entered politics in 1866, being chosen to represent Madison county in the Kentucky legislature. In 1873 he was elected governor on the Democratic ticket. After retiring from the executive office he was elected to the Forty-ninth congress, and re-elected to the Fifty-third and Fifty-fourth sessions. Governor McCreary was appointed by the president of the United States, in 1892, one of the five commissioners to represent the United States in the international monetary conference. In that conference he distinguished himself as an advocate of bimetalism.

Miners Strike.

Dubois, Pa., Jan. 10.—Eight hundred employees at Affian and 600 men employed at the Florence mine of the Rochester and Pittsburgh Coal and Iron company are on strike. The grievance of the men is that they are required to push cars left on the main track at the headings to and from the rooms in which they work. They claim this should be done by mules.

Struck a Work Train.

Pittsburg, Jan. 10.—The Wellsville and Delaware express on the Cleveland and Pittsburgh railroad collided with a Port Wayne work train in Allegheny and four trainmen were hurt, but none of them seriously. The express carried 50 passengers, none of whom suffered worse than a thorough shaking up and a bad fright.

Anti-British Riots.

Vienna, Jan. 10.—A riotous anti-British demonstration was provoked at the town of Sal in Hungary, on the occasion of the presentation of Wilson Barrett's play, "The Sign of the Cross." The police were forced to stop the play and clear the building. The papers heartily approve of the demonstration.

FARMING WITH MACHINERY.

Fifty Horsepower Engines on Southern California Wheatfields.

Farming is conducted upon a large and economic scale in many portions of southern California, writes the special correspondent of the New York Post from Los Angeles. In no locality has modern steam farming machinery been applied with such effectiveness as upon the grain ranches in southern California. On one ranch the engine used to draw the machinery is of fifty horsepower and has drywheels eight feet high. It consumes twelve barrels of oil every day, and its operation requires the services of seven men. In plowing fifty-five furrows are turned over at one time, covering a breadth of forty feet. Eight horses are needed to keep the machine supplied with water and fuel. The best record made so far in plowing is seventy-five acres in four hours and forty-five minutes. The field was five miles around, giving the great engine a straightaway course, with few turns, in making the record. In operating this plow to the best advantage a water station is maintained at one corner of the field, from which the engine is supplied as needed. The average capacity of the machine is the plowing of 110 acres per day.

The use of this machine is not an experiment. Last year 6,000 acres were harvested by it. On a ranch of 1,000 acres it is an economic investment, but a smaller acreage would not warrant the outlay. Last season a combined harvester was drawn by the engine and averaged over 1,000 acres of wheat in a day, cutting, thrashing and sacking the crop. One of these great field engines is at work this season near Covina, displacing seventy mules.

DISTANCED THE "SHADOW."

Secret Service Officer Outstripped by the President and His Son.

President Roosevelt, accompanied by his son Theodore, outstripped the secret service officer who was detailed to follow him the other afternoon in Washington, says the New York Tribune. Leaving the White House about 4 o'clock, they walked across country to Cabin John Bridge, a celebrated resort in Montgomery county, Md., about seven miles northwest of Washington and only a short distance from the Potomac river. For the greater part of the walk the detective, who was ordered by the president not to shadow him, kept pace with the chief magistrate and his son.

On the way back to the White House, at a place near the Chain bridge, which connects the banks of the Potomac about three or four miles from Georgetown, the secret service man became exhausted. Here he was forced to remain several minutes to rest and get his breath. In the meantime the president and his son proceeded to the White House. It was an hour or more after dark when they arrived. The outstripped secret service officer came in to make his report about an hour and a half later. He was completely played out and has not told any one whether he took the electric cars in or not.

BETRAYED NAPOLEON III.

Arrest of Countess Castiglione's Maid Discloses Strange Facts.

A new page has been furnished to the history of the relations of Napoleon III. to Italy by the arrest at Rome of Angelica Vergozola, the maid of the late Countess Castiglione, who was the reputed mistress of the emperor, says the New York Press. The maid was arrested upon the charge of stealing a large part of the personal property of the Countess Castiglione, and other arrests are expected.

Angelica Vergozola's house was searched by the police, and many private letters between Countess Castiglione and Napoleon III., King Victor Emmanuel and Cavour were discovered. An ivory crucifix worth 15,000 francs, choice Sevres vases and costly jewels were also found.

CANCER CURED BY PLASTER

Application Proves Successful on Man Eighty-seven Years Old.

Edward Beebe, eighty-seven years old and a resident of Derby, Conn., for nearly half a century, has been cured of a cancer. The cancer first appeared on his nose many years ago. A year ago it began to increase in size and became painful. His condition became so bad that physicians said his death would ensue within a few weeks. About a month ago, when Mr. Beebe was believed to be dying and after many forms of treatment had been tried unavailingly, the plaster application was suggested and decided upon. The plaster was applied to the nose. Two weeks later the plaster came off and the cancer with it, says the New York Press. Mr. Beebe is up and about and says the pain has gone and he feels as well as a man of his age could. The same treatment is being tried on two other Derby persons afflicted with cancer.

Novel Engineering Project.

The czar has just sanctioned a remarkable engineering project, the raising of the water of the sea of Azof 14 feet 8 inches by building a dam near Kertch nine miles long. In the wall immense sea gates are to be made for the passage of ships. There will also be outlets for the superfluous water. The cost will be about $25,000,000, the interest on which will be paid by ships trading to the port affected.

Pepsin Syrup Co., Monticello, Ill.

Dear Sirs:—For almost fifteen years I suffered from indigestion and last winter thought I would die, when my physician, Dr. A. J. Liguaneau of this place, advised my trying Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which I did, and two bottles cured me. It not only relieved me, but it cured me so that I have not been troubled since.

If any one should offer me $500 for the good Syrup Pepsin has done me, one can take your medicine without being convinced of its more than wonderful cures. I recommend it to all my friends as a laxative and stomach remedy. Yours with gratitude,

AMUSEMENTS.

"The Strollers" tonight at the Auditorium in Daly's famous comedy "A Night On." A capital performance of an excellent play. Don't miss seeing it.

If the verdict of Chicago papers is to be accredited, the "Arizona" which Newark theatre goers will see this season is superior in several respects to that given last season. Not that the slightest alteration has been made in the lines or the scenic investiture, but that the cast has been strengthened in several minor particulars. Miss Elsie Esmond still impersonates the ingenious "Bonita," and John Truzy as "Tony," the Mexican, is ready to shoot the betrayer of his sweetheart, or to warble Spanish songs to her through the open window. Sydney Alsworth, as the dashing young cavalry lieutenant, "Don-ton," still makes the role as romantic and as comic as formerly. One of the new members of the cast is Harrison Armstrong, who appears as "Capby," the ranchman. Following in the footsteps of a great actor, he reverently plays the part very effectively. Manager Rosebraugh is happy to announce that the company which will appear at the Auditorium Jan. 14, is identically the one which played the engagement at the Chicago Auditorium, and elicited such unstinted praise from the critics of that city.

If anyone, there are really thousands, has an ambition to write plays or dramatic novels no better object lesson could be had than by reading "David Harum," sundying its opportunities, dividing it into scenes and acts and then witnessing the performance of the comedy to be given under Charles Frohman's management at the Auditorium Thursday night, January 16. The reader will find a mass of incidents, anecdotes, and suggestions, and some thirty or forty available characters, all well drawn and familiar type of town, country and city life and the rest should be easy. Every novelist recognizes the value of a stage version of his play yet not one in a hundred can do the dramatizing, that is an art separate and distinct from story telling just as de-claring is distinct from acting. There are fewer good dramatists than novelists and Frohman pays big royalties.

A feast of rollicking fun and sparkling music may be anticipated when the greatest of all musical successes "King Dodo," by Messrs. Pixley and Luders, authors of "The Burgomaster," is seen in this city with its great cast, its elaborate scenic adornment, and all the popular features during its phenomenal run of five straight months in Chicago at the Studebaker Theatre. "King Dodo," is said to surpass the average importance. There are three score players employed in the ensemble, and during the three acts there are shown a variety of costumes, which are sold to surpass in beauty and richness any production now recalled. A splendid orchestra, which will be appreciated by theatre goers, and it is expected the engagement of "King Dodo" at the Auditorium on Wednesday night, January 15 will prove the most important theatrical event of the year. Mr. Henry W. Savage, director of the Castle Square Opera company is the manager of the organization.

The Cardinal Wolsey of Mr. Louis, James when he is now playing to the Queen Katharine at Madame Modjeska's, is a great success. The play is a masterpiece of the country as being the most perfect Shakespearean tragedy in the English language. The organization is a company of the highest quality.

DECIDED BY HIS WIFE. HEART DISEASE.

Gov. Shaw Accepts Treasury Portfolio on Her Advice.

"I GUESS MAYBE WE CAN STAND IT"

So Says New Cabinet Member's Wife, but She Thinks Mr. Gage Spent Too Much Entirely — "I Don't Want to Make Mr. Shaw Hard Up," She Says.

The appointment of Governor Leslie M. Shaw as secretary of the treasury has occasioned scarcely more interest in Des Moines, Ia., than the attendant elevation of Mrs. Shaw to the social prominence of the wife of a cabinet officer, says the New York World.

Five years ago Governor Shaw was not known outside the little town of Denison, in which he was chiefly noted for activity in the Methodist church. Up to that time Mrs. Shaw's social life was only that of a popular woman of comfortable means in a town of 2,000 population. Prior to her marriage she was Miss Alice Crowshaw. Her stepfather was a farmer near Clinton. At the time of the marriage Mr. Shaw was poor.

Upon her removal to Des Moines as the wife of the governor Mrs. Shaw won popularity because of her guilelessness and affability. She now looks forward to her prospective social activity at Washington with the utmost pleasure, though she has little conception of just what will be expected of her and is more or less bewildered at the outlook.

"I've always done my best wherever I've been," she said, "and I'm not at all frightened. I now they say Mr. Gage spent $100,000 more than his salary, owing to the demands of society, but that seems to me needless and a little foolish. Mr. Shaw told me Senator Allison assured him we would be able to go out in society all that is necessary on $5,000 a year more than his salary, and I guess maybe we can stand that for a few years. I don't want to make Mr. Shaw hard up, and I shall not, but you know I've always borne my share of society work, and I expect I shall in Washington. They say it nearly wrecked Mrs. Gage's health, but I shall not be alarmed on that account, as I'm so well and strong."

"When Mr. Shaw went to Dubuque to see Senator Allison, he didn't make any promises until he could see me. When he got back again, he said to me he didn't want to go anywhere his wife and children could not go with honor and comfort, and he left the decision to me. Yes, I practically had the deciding voice. I didn't much like the idea of changing our plans after having made all arrangements to return to Denison next month and spending $2,500 in making over our house, but I realized it was too great an honor to decline and so I decided he should accept."

"But, really now, is it quite sure he's going to get the place after all? He's never yet received any notice from President Roosevelt direct and was only asked through Senator Allison if he would accept if it was offered. It seems to me it might yet fall through. Don't you think so?"

"Well, well, I suppose it's just a woman's foolish notion. Men, and politicians especially, know much more about such things. Perhaps this is the usual way of going about making an appointment."

Mrs. Shaw declares she will depart as soon as the governor does, taking the family and the household effects. She does not expect this to take place, however, until after the inauguration of Governor Cummins, Jan. 16. She spent the day visiting the best local modistes, but says she will wait until she reaches Washington to have her best gowns made.

Ninety Per Cent of it Really Caused From Poor Digestion.

Real organic heart trouble is incurable, but scarcely one case in a hundred is organic. The action of the heart and stomach are both controlled by the same great nerves, the sympathetic and pneumogastric, and when the stomach fails to properly digest the food and it lies in the stomach fermenting, gases are formed which distend the organ causing pressure on the heart and lungs, causing palpitation, irregularity and shortness of breath.

The danger from this condition is that, the continued disturbance of the heart sooner or later may cause real organic heart trouble and in fact frequently does so.

Furthermore, poor digestion makes the blood thin and watery, and deficient in red corpuscles, and this further irritates and weakens the heart.

The most sensible thing to do for heart trouble is to insure the digestion and assimilation of the food.

This can be done by the regular use after meals of some safe, pleasant and effective digestive preparation, like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets which may be found at most drug stores, and which contain the necessary digestive elements in a pleasant, convenient form.

"Thousands of people keep well and vigorous by keeping their digestion perfect by observing the rule of taking one or two of these tablets after each meal, or at least after each hearty meal."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain U. S. P. pepsin, diastase from malt and other natural digestives which act on the food, digesting it perfectly and preventing acidity, gases, and the many diseased conditions which accompany a weak stomach.

When Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are used you may know you are not taking into the system any strong medicine or powerful drug but simply the natural digestive elements which every weak stomach lacks.

So widely known and popular have these tablets become that they are now sold by every druggist in the United States, Canada and Great Britain.

POLITICIAN

Confessed That He Had Robbed a Store Because He Was "Hard Up."

Evansville, Ind., Jan. 10.—I. C. Shepherd, a prominent Republican politician, was arrested yesterday afternoon on the steps of the court house, where he had been several days as a juror in a case against the city. It is charged that he broke into Hahn's grocery store several nights ago, and stole $20 in cash from the register. When locked up at police station Shepherd broke down and confessed to the crime.

He is 50 years old, and has been prominent in local politics for several years. A year ago he was an applicant for the position of revenue collector, and had the backing of some of the best people in the city.

He owns property, and his family moves in good society. Shepherd said he had been unable to sell his property and was hard up for ready cash, and decided to break into the store. He will throw himself on the mercy of the Court. The police believe Shepherd is suffering from mental trouble.

IT WAS MOSES
Who Ordered the Flag Down at Fort Sumter.

Columbia, S. C., Jan. 10.—Frank J. Moses, former Governor of South Carolina, first came into the public eye when some years before the civil war he was expelled from the Euphrodian Society of the South Carolina College for stealing a pair of boots.

Because of this there was surprise when Governor Pickens made him his private secretary, and as such, representing the Governor, he hauled down the United States flag at Ft. Sumter.

Moses was a son of a South Carolinian of good family. He and his father joined the carpet baggers. After the war he was made Adjutant General, his father Chief Justice, and he organized and armed negro militia to overawe the whites. Later he succeeded Scott as Governor. Money was spent by the hundreds of thousands.

While Governor, Moses, it is said, indicted an actress who played in this city, and was kicked down the steps and horsewhipped by one of the malcontents of her company.

His relatives living in this state are eminently respectable people.

FINE GAME

RESULTED IN VICTORY FOR NEWARK TEAM.

Wolves Defeated O. S. U. Basket Ball Team at Y. M. C. A. Gymnasium Here Last Night.

One of the best games of basket ball ever seen in Newark was played in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium last night, the opposing teams being the crack O. S. U. team of Columbus, and the "Wolves" of this city.

There was a fair crowd present, and there was not a moment of the time that the teams were contesting for supremacy, that the spectators were not wrought up to the highest pitch of excitement.

From the time the whistle sounded for the opening of hostilities, and referee Schlegel put the ball in play, until the close of the game, there was not an idle moment.

For the first five minutes the college boys set a terrific pace, and it looked for a while as if the Newark boys would be literally played "off their feet." By fine and fast work they had scored one goal from the field and one from a foul. Fitzgerald deliberately hurling Sayre to the floor. After this, however, the Wolves took a hand, and by fast and hard ball tied the score. Shauck and Streams putting the ball through the basket.

There were a number of fierce rallies about the baskets at both ends of the field, and each team succeeded on several occasions in getting out of a very tight place.

While every man on each team played a magnificent game Streams was the bright particular star of the evening. He was omnipresent, and his great playing was a potent factor in the creditable score rolled up by the Wolves. Shauck was also a thick end of the fray at all times, and the goal throwing of these two has never been excelled in Newark. Anderson, who took Fitzgerald's place in the second half, made the most picturesque and sensational play of the evening, throwing the ball swift and true, for a goal almost the entire length of the field.

For O. S. U. Wheeler and Powell did fine work.

The Newark boys on several occasions did some unnecessary fumbling which on at least two occasions cost them a goal from field. This should be overcome by all means as it may, sometime, cost a game.

While hard fought the game was singularly free from unnecessary roughness. The audience (except the ubiquitous and noisy small boy) was very fair, applauding the visitors generously for their good work.

The final score was 26 to 20 in favor of the Wolves, and it was a grand victory, hard earned. The fine physical condition of the Wolves won the day. The line up and summary follow:

Wolves—Shauck, Streams, forwards; Daugherty, center; R. A. Smith, capt.; Fitzgerald, Anderson, guards.

O. S. U.—Wilkinson, Margardt, forwards; Wheeler, guard; Powell, Sayre capt., guards.

Summary—Final score, 26 to 20. Goals from field. Shauck 3. Streams 2. Daugherty 1. Anderson 1. Wilkinson 1. Wheeler 4. Powell 1: goals from fouls. Wilkinson 2. Shauck 3. Streams 2. Referee. Joe Schlegel: umpire. E. L. Long: scorer. R. O. Smith. Time, 20 minute halves.

Central American Coalition.

Colon, Colombia, Jan. 10.—General Alban, the commander of the Colombian forces, has received information that President Zelaya of Nicaragua has invited the other four presidents of Central America to attend a conference at Corinto, Nicaragua, with the secret object of inducing them to enter into a coalition against Colombia. ## CUBA'S FIRST PRESIDENT.

Thomas Palma Tells What His Most Important Work Will Be.

In his home at Central Valley, near Goshen, N. Y., a New York Journal representative found President Elect Tomas Estrada Palma the other night (Jan. 2). The veteran Cuban was sitting in his library. He greeted the reporter pleasantly and said:

"Many gentlemen of the press have been to see me, but I could not tell them much because I had not received formal notification of my election. 'This night,' he continued, 'I received my first telegram. It is from Mendez Capote, president of the national constitutional convention and a member of the board of elections. I have received many telegrams since, but this is the first. Now I am at liberty to talk. My son Jose will translate it.'"

Jose, a bright youth, who is studying law at Columbia, came at his father's call and read as follows:

Palma—According to the central committee of scrutiny, I allow myself to assure you that the election was practically unanimous. The partisans of Maso fought only in a few provinces. The conviction here is that the vote taken represents the will of the people by an immense majority.

MENDEZ CAPOSE.

The president elect continued:

"There are two things which I shall ever strive to accomplish. The most important is to strengthen the cordial relations existing between the republic of Cuba and the United States of America. The little island owes more to this country than it can ever repay. It cannot exist and prosper without the aid of this country. I hope and pray that we may live always in amity."

"My other object will be to conduct an economical administration, and under this head I hope to develop the Isla de Cuba, principally the agricultural industries. I hope to secure a reduction of tariff in this country so that the products of Cuba may be received here. Our principal products are sugar and tobacco. I hope that Cuba will produce but little that is grown in this country, even as I hope the United States will produce but little that is grown in Cuba, so that we may mutually be benefited by the importation of our productions."

President Palma uses the choicest English, but with a pronounced Spanish accent, and gesticulates eloquently with his hands while talking. His most eloquent utterance was made with tears in his eyes:

"I belong to Cuba, body and soul!"

"I shall leave the United States in April," he continued, "and go to my fatherland, but I shall not go with the idea of living in luxury or with any feeling of vanity in my bosom. I shall go there to work like any factory hand or any laborer with the pick and shovel, and every officer of my cabinet will be expected and compelled to do the same."

"God bless the press of this country! I owe much to it and expect much from it. I trust that your paper will set me right before the American people, whom I love so well, and not misquote me. From the bottom of my heart I am a Democrat."

KINOTOSCOPE'S NEW USE.

Its Pictures Will Be Used in Scientific Experiments.

A kinetoscope of the latest pattern has been purchased by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Boston for the use of its classes and instructors. The first use to which it will be put will be in illustrating the movement and character of air waves. The air about us is full of unnoticed sound waves, produced not by sounds, but by the various motions that make sounds. From certain positions these waves can be photographed, and a given wave, by means of the kinetoscope, can be reproduced not only greatly magnified, but so as to show it in progress from one point to another. The great value of this moving picture of course lies particularly in the fact that the speed at which the waves move can be regulated by the mechanism of the kinetoscope—that is, although the speed of sound waves is about 1,120 feet a second, by means of the kinetoscope a wave can be made to travel visibly across the screen of the lecture room at a rate slow enough to permit careful analysis and study.

Another early use to which the kinetoscope will be put at the institute has to do with the solution of an important and difficult problem in the construction of dynamos, concerning the relation between an alternating current dynamo and the steam engine that supplies its power. The stroke of the engine on its piston is uneven, being at first strong and then diminishing to no power at all, a defect which has often been pointed out, but has not yet been fully remedied, and is hardly calculated to afford the even power required by an alternating current dynamo. In the modern machine this difficulty is partly overcome by the use of a fly-wheel that smooths out some of the unevenness of the piston throbs, but it is hoped that the kinetoscope, by affording an opportunity of studying the present mechanism not only in a greatly enlarged form, but so regulated in speed that the motion can be fully analyzed, will suggest some important improvement.

Tapir Teeth Found in Kentucky.

Three molar teeth of a tapir were found at Vernalton, near Lexington, Ky., some weeks ago and sent by Professor Arthur Miller, biologist of the State college, to Professor Osborne, dean of the biological department of Columbia university and a curator in the American Museum of Natural History, for examination. Says the Chicago Inter Ocean: "They were returned the other day, and pronounced genuine. The South American tapir was never before found this far north, and the find is an extremely rare one."

RAILWAY AFFAIRS.

INVESTIGATION OF THE NEW YORK TUNNEL HORROR.

New Freight Ruling—Danger in New Form—Engineers Steady and Sober—Local and General.

New York, Jan. 10.—District Attorney Jerome and the State Railway Commissioner resumed their investigation of the tunnel horror today. Engineer Wischo, whose failure to see the signals caused the collision, "will tell his story. He sits in a cell in the courts with head bowed in his hands, all through his waking hours. "I did not see the signals," is the only answer he gives to questions regarding the accident. Wischo has had his engineer's certificate only about five months.

PASS AGREEMENT BROKEN.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 10.—The pass agreement, so far as the lines of the Central Passenger association are concerned, has been broken. All lines are now arranging to send out their annual pass lists although not to so great a number as heretofore. The Wabash is said to be directly responsible for the break. President Ramsey sent a telegram to the other Presidents that the competition of the Ohio River had compelled him to take the step. Vice President McCrea of the Pennsylvania is said to have immediately followed, and now all the lines which have hitherto refrained are issuing passes. All the roads admit that the competition among the so-called Ohio river lines is directly responsible for the break, as the east and west railroads could not do business effectively when intercepted at every other point by other railroads which had a material advantage in traffic, buying their passes in the hands of the soliciting force.

ONE FARE RATE.

Rates of one fare for the round trip have just been authorized for the following meetings: Order of Elks at Salt Lake, August 12, General Federation of Woman's Clubs at Los Angeles, California, next May, Mystic Shrine at San Francisco, June 26, Knights of Pythias biennial meeting at San Francisco, August 12.

ENGINEERS SOBER AND STEADY.

The engineer of today is a sober, steady, nervy man, especially on the fast express trains on the big roads. It is nerve that makes one man carry the limited express train through the darkness of the night, fog, sleet or blinding snow sixty miles an hour. The stories we read of an engineer losing his nerve after an accident are largely fiction. "In twenty-seven years of active railroad life," said a railroad official, "I have had but one or two men apply to me for a transfer upon the ground that their nerves had gone back on them for running the fast trains. I have had men who had been flung fifty feet over their tender in a head end collision and had a dozen bones broken come to me after they had been discharged from the hospital and ask to be put back on their old run."

"You see, they begin firing when they are about 18 or 20 and the cab of an engine is their home. If they run into a person or a wagon load of people on the track it is not their fault; they take a practical view of it; they have to. If it is their fault we discharge them, and they can take any view of it they please then, for we do not wish in our employ careless men."

"This is true of all the big roads and as a result American engineers of today are about as model a set of men in their employment as can be found."

DANGER IN NEW FORM.

The destruction by fire of an entire train that was wrecked on the B. & O. railroad the other day calls attention to an old danger which threatens railroad passengers in a new form. Formerly it was the car stove which menaced the lives of persons imprisoned in wrecked trains, and it was believed that menace would be removed when steam had been substituted for fire as a means of heating cars. Now it is the gas, used for lighting purposes, and which is carried under high pressure in tanks attached to the cars which causes the trouble. The gas tanks on the B. & O. train exploded, setting fire to the cars, and they were consumed.

Whoever devises a successful means of heating fires on railroad trains will be a public benefactor. Usually fires occur at places where there is no water that can be used to extinguish fires, and nothing can be done by the trainmen and passengers. Each car is supposed to be provided with fire extinguishers of course, but when the cars are jammed together in a wreck it is nearly always impossible to get at these extinguishers.

At present there seems to be no way to meet this problem, and no way is likely to be discovered soon. People who travel on the railroad will probably have to continue taking ordinary risks in this respect, and after all the risk is not a very startling one, considering the small number of passengers killed and injured, in the course of a year, in proportion to the whole number carried.

CARNEGIE TO RAILROAD MEN.

Johnstown, Pa., Jan. 10.—W. W. Wake, John McCune and Henry Hudson, veteran Pennsylvania railroad engineers of this city, who were retired on pensions some time ago, received checks for $20 each from Andrew Carnegie. Mr. Carnegie was formerly the superintendent of the Pittsburgh division, on which these veterans worked, and it is understood to be Mr. Carnegie's purpose to pension all the trainmen who are yet alive who worked during his superintendency of that part of the road. The Messrs. Wake, McCune and Hudson are to receive $20 every month for life, and if they should die before their wives the latter will continue to receive the Carnegie pensions.

TELEPHONES IN TROLLEYS.

Muskegon, Mich., Jan. 10.—J. F. Bidwell of Toledo gave the first practical demonstration here of a telephone system (the invention of Mr. Bidwell's father), whereby it is possible to call up and talk from an electric car going at full speed, with any one who is located in another car on the same line, running in any direction, and at any distance. The system is applicable to either steam or electric roads. The overhead trolley is used for one side of the circuit and for the other, a second wire is strung parallel with the stationary trolley. The metal trolley pole of the car is attached to a second pole, which operates on the additional wire by means of a flanged wheel. A closed circuit is thus obtained. Telephone wires are attached to each of the two trolley poles which lead to the telephone in the car.

GRAIN RATES.

Kansas City, Jan. 10.—The interstate commerce commissioners examined seven witnesses regarding grain rates from western points to Atlantic seaboard and other eastern destinations. They returned to Chicago after announcing that the investigation would be resumed in that city on Jan. 24, when it is believed, several big railway officials will be called. The expected rush of railroad officials and grain shippers to confess they had made and received freight rebates or cut rates did not occur. The most direct admission was that of John A. Robinson of the firm of Hall & Robinson of Kansas City, which controls the export grain business of the Missouri Pacific. Mr. Robinson admitted that W. D. Smith, freight traffic manager of the Missouri Pacific, made him a rate on export grain of from 2 to 5 cents per hundred lower than the published export tariff.

THIS AND THAT.

Capt. R. P. Hobson, the hero of the Merrimac and afterwards hero of that osculatory performance which for a while dimmed his lustre, is to get out of the navy, according to a report, in order that he can run for Congress from an Alabama district.

Assemblyman Wm. S. Bennett of New York, has introduced a bill in the lower house at Albany making it a misdemeanor to flirt on a public thoroughfare.

Findlay intends to put in a claim of being the model town of Ohio. There has not been an arrest in that city from any cause whatever since December 31, 1901. The police are getting desperate, and are threatening to start a suspicion column. New Year's resolutions are alleged to be at the bottom of it.

Mrs. Elmira Stanberry thinks her husband has a queer idea of humor and she doesn't indorse his views.
Mrs. Stanberry in a suit for divorce filed Tuesday at Upper Sandusky alleges that her husband threw coffee in her face some years ago. She says that the coffee marred her looks so that her husband laughs at her when-

Many papers have recently published long accounts of the reunion of the Young triplets in Chicago, the remarkable feature about it being that considering their age, 45 years, they were still young.

Vancleve Glass Company, of Defiance, this state, has cousins who are triplets and all living, at the age of 49 years, and in the same family are twins, both living aged 5 years. These children are from a family of 16 children, nearly all living. Frank and George Lehman and Mrs. Maggie Wolf are the triplets, and all live in South Bend, Ind. W. B. Lehman, of Goshen and John Lehman of Elkhart, are the twins. The children were born near Peru and were reared near Goshen.

EVARTS MEETINGS.

"Count Your Blessings" Popular Gospel Hymn Introduced at Revival Service Last Night.

A good attendance at the Baptist church last evening entered heartily into the spirited song service which preceded the sermon, also two very effective pieces were rendered by the Y. M. C. A. Male Quartette. Mr.
Evarts makes much of the music at his meetings, and this one feature alone will repay anyone for the effort in attending the services. Tonight, if his voice will permit, he will sing the song used at the McKinley funeral at Canton "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere."

The sermon last night was directed to three classes, Christians, backsliders and the unconverted, and so plainly and forcibly did the evangelist show each their duty to their God that when the invitation was given several responded, and some remained for prayer and conference. Both pastor and people all felt that the service was one of unusual power and that much good was accomplished.

The subject for the afternoon Bible reading was "Assurance," and tonight at 7:15 the regular revival service will be held. No sermon on Saturday.
Great preparations are being made for the Sunday meetings.

within three feet of her, yet the bullet did not go through her forehead or fracture her skull simply burying itself in her thick skull. Old surgeons who have had years of experience in the army say that they never saw anything like it before. Patton claims the shooting to have been accidental, but the police think different, and arrested him.

IN OLDEN TIMES.

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with transient action;
but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs will permanently overcome habitual constipation, well-informed people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but sually injure the system. Buy the genuine, made by the California Fig Syrup Company.

High grade goods are cheaper in the long run, and "Clover Leaf" Flour will

SPANISH WAR

LICKING CAMP INSTALLS NEW OFFICERS

After Mustering in Four Comrades.
Services Followed by a Spread.
An Enjoyable Evening.

The installation of the newly elected officers of Licking Camp, No. 92 Spanish American War Veterans, at Memorial Hall Thursday evening was a complete success in every way.
Promptly at 7:30 o'clock the camp was called to order by Senior Vice Commander Sylvester H. Beadle and after the regular order of business had been transacted, four candidates were mustered into the organization, and several applications were received.

At 8 o'clock the invited guests,
members of the different soldier organizations of the city, arrived and the beautiful installation services provided by the rituals were used. Colonel Clifton H. Rosebrough, the state mustering officer of the S. A. W. V., performed his work in a most befitting manner, which was acceptable to all.

After the services the new commander Mr. Chas. Adams called upon the newly installed Chaplain, Rev. J.
C. Schindel, who offered prayer.

The new officers of the camp are as follows:

Commander, Charles S. Adams.
Sr. Vice Com., Wm. H. Staugh.
Jr. Vice Com., Chas. E. Matthews.
Chaplain, Rev. J. C. Schindel.
Adjutant, Horace B. Coulter.
Officer of the Day, Myer Hall.
Officer of the Guard, Chas. F. Walton.

Quartermaster, Sylvester H. Beadle.
Around a beautifully decorated hanquet table were gathered about 60 of the veterans of the different wars, and after discussing the large variety of edibles provided, a number of toasts were responded to.

Captain F. G. Steel spoke of Patriotism in the public schools and in his remarks urged the young veterans to assist and do all in their power towards keeping up the work already started in this direction by the G. A.
R. Commander David J. Jones touched the tender cords of the earnest listeners when, in the course of his remarks, he told of the little boy in the East End, who, overhearing several men discussing the conditions in Cuba just before war was declared on Spain by the United States, said:
"Well, if I had a gun I would go." Following Mr. Jones, Commander M. O.
Nash, of the U. V. L., spoke for several minutes on harmony and the help in that direction given by the very presence of the S. A. W. V.

Mr. Arthur Hatch, in a few remarks told of the good words that were said of the camp by the newspapers throughout the state, occasioned by the several receptions given for the members of the National Guard who were in camp at the state grounds last summer.

Short talks were made by Major Blizzard, Spurgeon, the comic man of the battery, Captain J. H. Smith, the Mexican war veteran, Capt. W. C. Miller on the different views of a battery from the commander's standpoint; Rev. J. C. Schindel after telling several anecdotes, gave a most thrilling description of a death and burial at sea. It is believed that much good for the camp will result from the pleasant affair of Thursday night.

In a recent book of travels in China special point is made of the general honesty of the people, as illustrated by the numerous stalls and shops that are left to look after themselves without danger of theft.

It is said that the redemption division of the national postoffice at Washington is nearly swamped by the return of the left-over Pan-American postage stamps since November 1. Some 10,000 packages have been received. All records are broken, as far back as Chief Scott can recollect.

The mother became a widow, came to Hebron, secured a comfortable home and maintained her family by untiring industry. In due time this daughter took up the work of life and with her needle, her loom, and the products of her garden, provided for life's necessities, and was respected by all for her sound integrity. In early womanhood she united with the Disciple church, and was always found in her place when health permitted. She had been an invalid for a long time, and battled with disease in a most heroic way, and astonished people by the results of her labor—her boundless ambition far exceeding her strength.

Not wishing to abandon her home, when it became necessary to have a care-taker, her brother Dudley and family went to her home in November, and have since administered to her needs.

Funeral services were conducted at the church on Wednesday afternoon by Rev. C. N. Madden, and as the body was borne from the church, it thought it can be truly said of her: "She bath done what she could."

A stair case has just been invented, which pays tunes as it is walked up and down upon. A series of piano wires, pressed by the feet and piano keys and drums, while others are connected with collapsible chambers, which blow trumpets and similar instruments.

ARMY IN PHILIPPINES

It Is Necessary to Sustain the Civil Government.

SECRETARY OF WAR ROOT EXPLAINS.

Discusses Conditions in the Oriental Islands Before the House Committee on Military Affairs—Prolongation of Hostilities He Holds Due to the Vast Number of Unemployed.

Washington, Jan. 10.—An interesting exposition of conditions in the Philippines, together with the outlook for terminating military by civil rule, was given by Secretary Root before house committee on military affairs in connection with the army appropriation bill. The discussion of the Philippine conditions was brought out by a question by Mr. Hay of Virginia as to whether civil government could be maintained in the islands without the presence of the army. In reply Mr. Root stated that the army was not as necessary as a moral force to maintain the civil administration, now established. One of the main causes, he said, why there had not been more progress in the Philippines, was that the Spooner amendment passed by congress last year and restricting the grant of franchises, had the effect of preventing the investment of capital and the consequent employment of labor. Many people were idle and many of these became conspirators simply because they were idle. In many branches of industries the wheels of industry were not moving, the people out of employment were encouraged in viciousness, and as a result it was necessary to keep some 40,000 troops in the islands.

The secretary expressed the belief that if congress enacted the bill proposed by Senator Lodge or that of Representative Cooper of Wisconsin, providing systems of laws for the Philippines, it would be possible thereafter gradually to reduce the military establishment in the Philippines. He did not believe it would mean a rapid or complete termination of military rule, as the conditions among the natives were firmly fixed and it would take considerable time to bring about the new order of affairs. Mr. Root said that better progress had been made in the last year than had been expected, and he expressed the opinion that civilization ultimately would be extended to the people of the islands. Mr. Root also stated during the hearing that it was the expectation of the war department to do away with the army transport service, so that the transportation of troops thereafter would be carried on by private concerns. An item in the bill of $1,000,000 for emergency expenses of the war department, the secretary said, had been estimated through oversight. The committee doubtless will omit this emergency fund from the bill.

Bryan at Boston.

Boston, Jan. 10.—Hon. William J. Bryan arrived in Boston from New Haven to be the guest of the Commonwealth club. A big crowd was at the station to see the distinguished visitor, and when he stepped from the train and passed along the platform he was loudly cheered. He was recognized on the street and heartily greeted. Following the reception a banquet was served to the company, and Mr. Bryan was again the central figure. The welcome of the city was extended by its recently inaugurated mayor, Hon. Patrick A. Collins, who spoke of Mr. Bryan as an ideal American. Mr. Bryan's subject was "The Patriot in Peace," and his remarks were well received.

The other four men escaped from the mill with their clothing burning. They ran into the river near by to extinguish the flames. The property loss is $43,000.

Chamberlain Episode.

London, Jan. 10.—The Daily Mail states there has been no diplomatic correspondence with regard to Mr. Chamberlain's speech, and that Mr. Chamberlain himself conveyed the "assurances" mentioned in letters written to reach German public opinion. Beyond these letters, says the Daily Mail, the only other assurances volunteered were by one of the foreign office attaches, and were verbal and unofficial. There have been no apologies, retraction or withdrawal.

Statue of Rochambeau.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Secretary Root has asked congress to make an appropriation of $15,000 to provide for a suitable foundation and to arrange for the unveiling of a replica of the bronze statue of Rochambeau to be erected in this city. The original statue was made by Ferdinand Hamer and was erected in the French city where the distinguished soldier was born. Congress already has appropriated $7,500 for the statue and for a pedestal.

Itching Scalp.

Scald Head and the most Violent Form of Eczema and Salt Rheum Promptly and Thoroughly Cured by Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment.

Among small children, scald head and similar itching skin diseases are most prevalent, and the worst feature is that these ailments, which are apparently trivial at first almost invariably develop into chronic eczema if neglected.

There is but one treatment that physicians are unanimous in recommending for scald heads and eczema, and that is Dr. Chase's Ointment, the great antiseptic healer. It promptly stops the distressing itching which accompanies these diseases and positively produces a thorough and complete cure.

715 Joseph Chapman Avenue, Detroit, Mich.

Mr. J. H. Grant, writes: "For three years I have been troubled by an intense itching on my body. So terrible was it at times that I could get no rest night or day. I tried all kinds of ointments and blood purifiers, but could get no relief. Mr. H. A. Nicolai of 379 Division Street recommended Dr. Chase's Ointment. A few applications stopped the itching and I have felt nothing since."

Baby Eczema.

Mr. F. S. Rose, of 133 Sixteenth Street, Buffalo, N. Y., writes: "Our baby boy suffered for some time with that wretched eczema, and we were unable to find anything to cure or even relieve his pain. ## ROOFING ORANGE TREES

How Arizona's Fierce Sunlight Will Be Kept Out.

PLAN HIT UPON BY FRUIT GROWERS

A Close Screen of Willows and Wire Will Be Used Over One Thousand Acres to Protect the Citrus Growth From the Sun—Artificial Heat For Cold Days.

Work has begun in the Salt river valley on a gigantic scheme for growing fruit indoors, writes the special correspondent of the New York Post from Phoenix, Ariz. The project involves the roofing of more than 1,000 acres of orange, lemon and pomeio trees.

It may seem strange to persons who know this part of Arizona that protection should be necessary to fruit trees in the Salt river valley, but to irrigationists who are aware of the evaporative powers of the Arizona sun a protecting cover offers a solution of one of the most difficult problems which confront orange growers. Arizona oranges on the New York market this month [December] brought the highest price ever known, but the crop was very short, less than half that of a year ago and not more than one-fourth as heavy as that of two years previous. For the shortage the growers blame the excessive heat of the last summer, and it is to guard against a repetition of such a condition that they are preparing to cover their groves.

The plan is a simple one, elaborate only in its size. Poles will be put up in the orchards, and on these will be strung heavy wires in parallel rows. Then will be cut the heavy willow brush, the variety known as the water motus, which grows from five to ten feet high along all the water courses of Arizona. These sticks will be laid across the wires, with spaces between of from one-quarter to three-quarters of an inch, and thus form a roof which will not keep out the sun entirely from the trees, but will break the fierce heat of the midday sun. Thereby the earth about the roots of the trees may be kept moist by less frequent irrigation and thus prevent the hard baking of the soil, which prevents the proper spread of the roots.

Some time ago experiments were begun here in putting covers of canvas over orange trees, but that plan was abandoned because of the fact that the cloth covering kept out too much of the sunshine.

The work now in progress in the Salt river valley is being watched closely by the officials at the government experiment stations at Phoenix and at Tucson. While in Arizona the roofing for the orchards is intended primarily as a protection from the sun, it will also serve to keep out the frost which sometimes comes. It has been customary in the orange countries to build at night low fires through the groves or to make smudges. These methods, however, have never proved satisfactory, and to provide a better fuel extensive experiments are being made at Senator W. A. Clark's coal fields at Gallup, N. M. Here it has been found that a composition made up of coal dust, held together by a small quantity of asphaltum, together with an equal amount of crude oil, provides an economical fuel which will give out strong and steady heat and hold its fire for a long period. This composition is being made into bricks, which can be easily handled and placed about the orchards. With the protection of the roofs and the heat from these bricks of fuel it is believed have been found the safeguards which will do away with the obstacles which prevent in many localities the raising of citrus fruits at a profit.

FINANCIER AT FOURTEEN.

Chicago Boy Making Money in Stocks in Leisure Hours.

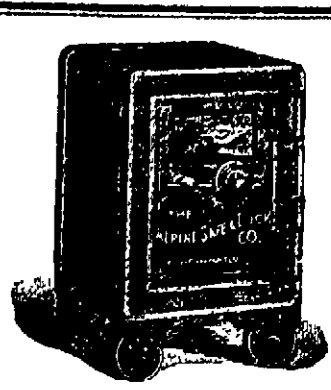

Jack Kohl, the fourteen-year-old son of Charles E. Kohl, a theatrical manager of Chicago, is showing a genius for successful speculation.

Jack is at Oxford school. He is a good scholar, but he does not care to play the ordinary games, says the Philadelphia Press. When Saturday comes, instead of taking a holiday, Jack visits brokers' offices, where he looks after his trades.

Jack's business operations are yielding him a steady income of $150 a month from one stock alone. He has made much more than this from occasional single operations and sometimes has suffered loss. He dropped $900 in Baltimore and Ohio, but is still holding on to his stock.

Story of the Kohinoor.

There is a good deal of interest felt in the announcement that the Kohinoor is to be the central jewel in Queen Alexandra's coronation crown, and it has revived many half forgotten stories about the famous stone. One relates that it was nearly lost through the forgetfulness of the man to whom it was entrusted for conveyance to England. This man was John Lawrence, high in the Anglo-Indian councils, and he put it in a small tin box and tucked it into his waistcoat pocket. When he reached England, Mr. Lawrence forgot all about it—worth only a few millions—and tossed the waistcoat aside. Queen Victoria sent for the jewel in a few weeks, and Lawrence replied, "Why, you've got it." Then in another instant he remembered, and he rushed to his native servant to know if he had the box. The servant had opened the box and, finding only a large piece of glass, as he thought, had tucked it away among his master's souvenirs. It was sent in safety to the queen.
